

METCALF WILL PROBABLY BE ELECTED CHAIRMAN.

GAGE MEN WANT TO BEAT NEFF, AND PREFER PARDEE TO FLINT--THE DOCTOR'S STAR IS STILL RISING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The chairmanship of the State Convention has temporarily become the chief question connected with the Governorship. For the moment Congressman Metcalf holds the center of the stage. Will he or will he not be a candidate for the Chairmanship?

That is the question everybody is asking, and the only man who can answer it positively declines to say more than that he may be a candidate.

Mr. Metcalf continues to state unequivocally that he will not be a candidate unless it is in harmony with Dr. Pardee's wishes.

It is generally believed, however, that he will let his name be presented for the Chairmanship.

The situation is just this: The Gage people admit that they cannot organize the Convention. They have made diligent effort to find a man whom they could elect Chairman, but the quest has so far been vain. A brief trial with General Chapman of the Supreme Court Commission showed that he could not win, and then a hasty canvass of General George Stone's chances placed him behind the distance.

Meantime the Flint and Edson people were centered on Lieutenant Governor Neff, who is also backed by Gage's delegates from the mining counties. Now Neff is violently opposed to Gage and an equally pronounced partisan of Flint. He is therefore particularly obnoxious to the Governor, as well as Colonel Burns and the other administration managers. Their only chance to beat Neff is to get behind Metcalf, who is a pronounced Pardee man. Metcalf is therefore being importuned to stand for Chairman, although he frankly states that if he does so it will be in the interests of Pardee.

The situation is not regarded as promising for the Governor's chances of renomination, although his supporters doggedly assert that he will win out in the end. They do not call the roll on their delegates, however, and admit that the fight is harder than it looked at first. Gage's supporters many of them now express doubts of winning. A few days ago they were jointly confident that he would win in a walk.

It is an open secret, however, that Gage would rather see anybody nominated than Flint and would prefer any man for chairman to Neff. Edson's following is so small that he is not seriously considered as a factor in either the gubernatorial or chairmanship fight, and it is therefore the consensus of opinion that Gage will throw his strength to Pardee when he becomes convinced that he cannot win. Indeed, many of Gage's followers openly express a preference for Pardee.

and it is well known that the doctor is the second choice of Colonel Burns. This being the case, many of Pardee's friends ask why should Flint be given the chairmanship when a Pardee man can have it without giving hostages or abating in his efforts to have the doctor nominated.

If Metcalf does get into the fight for the chairmanship it is morally certain that he will be elected.

One of Gage's managers said today, "We will organize the Convention."

"Who will be elected Chairman," asked THE TRIBUNE correspondent, "Victor H. Metcalf."

"But Metcalf is an outspoken Pardee man, and says he will only work in the interest of Pardee."

"Well, we will beat Neff with him anyhow" was the response. "We had rather have Pardee than Flint, and we know Metcalf will give us a square deal."

Pardee's chances have improved, if anything, over night. It is now even money that Pardee will be the winner, and some bets have been made on that basis. Rumors of disaffection in the San Francisco delegation multiply, although the Gage people still claim in the neighborhood of 150 votes. It is easy susceptible of proof that these claims cannot be substantiated at present. The drift, both in city and country, is towards Pardee, and the city politicians are beginning to look his way for fear that in the final show down they will be on the losing horse. This is important for the city politicians desire above all things to be with winner—and the leaves and fishes.

At Flint's headquarters it was openly stated that the finish would be between Pardee and the San Benito Senator, and for that reason they are very much put out at the prospect of Metcalf going for the Chairmanship.

J. O. Hayes has at length yielded to the siren voice of Abe Ruef, and has entered the lists as a gubernatorial candidate. The joke of it is that Ruef cannot deliver to Hayes the 22 delegates elected on the Primary League ticket. It is said that he cannot count more than thirteen, and these are for Hayes for speculative purposes only. Hayes' candidacy is regarded by everybody as only a bit of roof garden vaudeville arranged to give the Primary League boss a fictitious importance.

Dr. Pardee's headquarters were thronged today. The flies always flock to where they expect to find the molasses barrel. Among the callers were State Superintendent of Schools Kirk, State Controller Colgan, W. B. Hamilton, E. G. Lukens, Colonel Brownell and many gentlemen from the interior. The Fresno convention passed strong resolutions endorsing Kirk, and all the Fresno delegates are pledged to him.

"WARDEN'S SHOP" WHERE FURNITURE WAS MADE.

WITNESS IN THE GAGE CASE TELLS OF
THE HOUSEHOLD GOODS SHIPPED FROM SAN QUENTIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The morning session of the court in the Boardman-Spreckels case was an interesting one. As usual, Governor Gage was not represented, the prosecution being conducted by District Attorney Whiting, who is acting for Boardman.

The defense produced a most remarkable witness in the person of Timothy Whalen, a former inmate of the penitentiary at San Quentin, who was released a year ago and is now employed by a large hardware firm in this city as shipping clerk and marker.

Whalen was confined at San Quentin for fifteen years, and during that period occupied several positions of trust. In 1890 he acted as shipping clerk and became very friendly with Virgin, the man who was foreman of what was known as the prison as the "Warden's shop," which was situated immediately above the regular penitentiary carpenter shop and where large quantities of expensive furniture was made at the order of Warden Aguirre and other persons connected with the prison.

In answer to the interrogations of Attorney Campbell for the defense, Whalen stated that he spent several hours daily in the company of Virgin in the shop and was fully informed as to the articles being manufactured there under Virgin's superintendence.

Whalen produced a small memorandum book containing data on the affairs at San Quentin, and which showed that immense quantities of furniture of the best grade had been manufactured at the prison during the incumbency of Warden Aguirre.

Whalen, reading from this memorandum book, showed that furniture, which included tables, chairs, dressers, lounges, bedsteads, bird cages and other things, was constantly being turned out of the "Warden's shop" and that large quantities of these goods were crated and packed for shipping. Whalen said he had never seen marks on the crates or packages indicating the destination of the goods.

Whalen stated that on one occasion he saw a double set of harness was brought into Virgin's shop to be finished by a prisoner named Russell, and that it had been decorated with ivory and that the initial "G" had been carved on the harness.

Whalen stated that several pieces of furniture, including a roll-top desk and two handsome inlaid tables, had been made in the regular penitentiary carpenter shop.

Mr. Campbell then took up the matter of Governor Gage's visits to the prison and elicited the information that Whalen had seen Governor Gage at the prison many times and that the Governor, with Warden Aguirre, visited the "Warden's shop" on several occasions for the purpose of conversing with the workmen.

Whalen stated that, on May 24 of this year, in response to a summons from Warden Aguirre, he visited San Quentin prison, and there, in the presence of Captain Leslie of the Marine Corps, for Aguirre, brother of the Warden, and one Figaro, a saloon keeper at San Quentin, had a conversation with Warden Aguirre on the matters testified to by the witness this morning.

Whalen stated that he did not always treat him well, but that he had in his possession a private memorandum book showing the class of goods that had been manufactured in the "Warden's shop" under the supervision of Virgin, and that he (Whalen) had given to the witness a list of the value of these goods. Whalen, according to his testimony, denied that he had given out such information, where upon the Warden begged him not to disclose his knowledge of the matter to any one. Whalen testified that he did not promise not to give out information on the subject.

Mr. Whiting undertook the cross-examination of the witness, but instead of shaking the testimony of Whalen, rather strengthened it, and made evident the fact that the witness has a most remarkable memory.

Replying to the questions of Whiting, Whalen stated that the reason he kept a private memorandum was because he knew that the manufacture of articles such as were turned out of the "Warden's shop" was a most irregular proceeding and not in conformity with the laws governing prisons, as prescribed by the Legislature. A full knowledge of which the witness had.

Witness stated that he had no preconceived idea in keeping such data, but that all convicts are suspicious and, being always kept under close surveillance, often turned the tables on their watchers and kept tab on them.

AN INVENTORY.

Witness stated that he, with the accountant, Waldron, compiled the inventory of the stock on hand when Warden Hale turned his keys over to his successor, Warden Aguirre, and that the inventory showed, among other things, that hard woods of all kinds to the value of between $8,000 and $10,000 was on hand. The good memory of the witness was proved when he stated almost exactly the number of jute bags on hand at that time, and the value of the stock of the blacksmith shop and the machinery of the prison. Witness stated that he had never disclosed his knowledge of the conduct of affairs at San Quentin to any one until last night, and then to Attorney Campbell and Mr. Leake, representing the interests of the Call.

WARDEN'S BROTHER.

Joe Aguirre, brother of the Warden, was the next witness and it is hard to conceive a more halting or more belligerent witness. He reprimanded Attorney Campbell on several occasions for asking questions which he considered of too personal a nature, and was apparently unable to understand the simple and plainly put questions of Mr. Campbell.

At one time he called for the protection of the court when Mr. Campbell asked him to state the value of the upholstered furnishings amounting to nearly $2,000 purchased by his wife, and stated that he could protect himself anybody who attacked him from the front.

Protect the Children

There is nothing about a house that is so dangerous to health as poor plumbing. If a pipe leaks, there lurk diphtheria germs. If water stands in a pipe without running readily into the sewer, there is a breeding place for diseases. You owe it to yourself and to your children to have your plumbing examined twice a year at least and put in first class order. The cost is nothing when compared with a doctor bill.

We hire only experienced plumbers—the best plumbers in Oakland. Their work is practically perfect—we guarantee every bit of it, and our guarantee means something. Ring us up any time and we will have a man at the door promptly.

Remember the summer months is when poor plumbing is most dangerous.

DEWEY'S HIT IN LA TOSCA.

Miss Stone in the title role and Melbourne MacDowell as the Baron, in Sarducci's great play, "La Tosca," that is being presented at the Dewey this week, are proving one of the greatest drawing cards that has been in this city for a long time. Miss Stone's acting is superb.

The strong points in the great character are well interpreted by these clever artists and are presented with much finesse.

Excellent support is given Miss Stone and Mr. MacDowell by the Dewey Stock Company.

The staging and costuming are all that could be desired, and altogether the play is one of the strongest attractions that has been offered local theatre goers for some time. Seats must be secured in advance.

MOTION TO DISMISS
Judge Hall today denied a motion to dismiss the suit of N. W. Spaulding against J. M. Keller, that has been pending in the court since 1893. The action was brought to recover on a promissory note for $3,950, executed on April 27, 1885 and made payable to C. C. Tripp. The latter assigned his claim to Spaulding.

Keller has not been heard from for many years. It was stated in court today that he was very evasive when an attempt was made to serve a summons on him.

Notwithstanding the absence of their client, the attorneys for the defendant asked that the action be dismissed for want of prosecution. Spaulding's attorneys objected, stating that the reason they had not proceeded to trial was on account of Keller's absence.

Judge Hall set the case for trial on September 2.

BOX MAKERS GO OUT IN 'FRISCO

FOUR HUNDRED MEN ASK FOR MORE WAGES AND ALL MILLS CLOSE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—About 400 box-makers employed in the various box factories in this city went out on strike this morning and the plants of all the packing box mills are shut down. The factories most affected are the American Box factory, the Commercial Box factory, Hobbs, Wall & Company, Pacific Box factory, the Sunset Box factory and National Box factory.

The members of the union demand an increase in pay of 25 cents per day; the abolition of piece work and recognition of the union. In every place the terms were refused, but mills today as a result were shut down.

The box factories are unusually busy at this season of the year and all of the factories have orders to keep them running at their fullest capacity for several weeks.

[Inquiry at the Eagle Box factory in this city elicited the information that the above strike would not affect the employees of that institution because they were all non-union men.]

ST. B. Thurber of New York, who had declared that he was not such thing as a free speech man. Mr. Huestis charged that the so-called trust was using the Congress for its own ends. He did not think the money of this organization should be spent to circulate the specious arguments of any trust.

FOREMAN OF PENITENTIARY TESTIFIES IN BOARDMAN GAGE CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—In the Boardman case today, Henry A. Emile, foreman of the carpenter shop at San Quentin, confirmed his testimony this afternoon. He stated that three beds, three book cases, several chiffoniers, one dozen dining room chairs, eight frames for Turkish chairs, two extension tables, one center table, two inlaid tables and several other pieces of furniture had been made in his shop. Emile produced a requisition book kept of the work by the clerk under his supervision, showing that requisitions for lumber and hardware for furniture had been approved by Warden Aguirre. This book proved the existence of the "Warden's shop," which was upstairs from the prison shop over which Emile had kept. This book showed that many requisitions had been made for the "Warden's shop," but Emile was unable to explain how the requisitions for the shop in question came to be in his book.

Louis Lefevre, a clerk for Levi Strauss and Company, testified to having sold Mrs. Aguirre, in the presence of Mrs. Gage, large lists of linen and other fabrics.

NO MONEY IN SIGHT NOW FOR CREMATORY.

Oakland will not have a crematory of its own this year. Auditor A. H. Breed has decided that the request of the Board of Health for $20,000, where-with to build a crematory would be in excess of the amount of money available for next year's expenses, and has accordingly left the item out of his estimate of the expense of the city for the current fiscal year.

JUDGE HALL

IS AFFIRMED

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS HIS DECISIONS IN ACTIONS OF ALLEGED FRAUD.

The Supreme Court has just affirmed two judgments rendered by Judge Hall in actions brought for the recovery of property alleged to have been fraudulently conveyed to others to defeat the claims of creditors.

The actions in which Judge Hall's decisions were affirmed were brought by William C. Ackerman, as administrator of the estate of Amanda French against Francis Merle and others. It was alleged that prior to her death, Amanda French had conveyed certain pieces of real property to the defendants to defeat the claims of her creditors.

Judge Hall rendered judgment for the plaintiff in each action holding that the conveyances had been fraudulent. It was held that all of the property conveyed should be recovered to satisfy the claims of the creditors, even though the value of the property was much more than sufficient to pay the claims. One of the pieces of property, however, on which a mortgage had been paid off by the grantee, it was held that the latter was entitled to the mortgage interest in the property, as that action had not been tainted with fraud.

On the appeal, the sufficiency of the complaint was attacked but the Supreme Court held that the points advanced were not such as to warrant a reversal of the judgments.

THE FOG AIDS HIGGINSON MEN

INTENSE INTEREST SHOWN IN THE NAVAL STRATEGY ON NEW ENGLAND COAST.

ROCKPORT, Mass., Aug. 22.—The contrast in the conditions prevailing this morning and those of yesterday were most marked, and those participating or watching the manoeuvres of the Navy today found things favorable to the squadron under Commander Pillsbury, which is trying to make a landing on the New England coast between Portland, Maine, and Provincetown, Mass., while Rear Admiral Higginson and his vessels defend the seaboard. This morning a fog so thick that the water of the harbor could not be seen from naval headquarters, shrouded Cape Ann and the adjacent ocean. When the sun came up today the atmosphere was clear and extended observations were made from all signal and look-out stations. Each reported all well and that there was no sign of the enemy. It was not long after sunrise that the fog set in. It was a dense cloud impenetrable to the eye beyond a distance of ten or a dozen feet. Just before 9 o'clock, there were indications that the sun was burning through the mist on shore. Aside from the fact that the Keatinge, at least, was still at anchor, little was actually known here as to the position of the various ships of Admiral Higginson's squadron.

Scouts had been reported off Portland. The cruiser Brooklyn skirted the end of Cape Cod early in the forenoon and went across to Plymouth. Both ends of the line of defense were said to be well guarded, and as the naval experts here felt reasonably sure that the Alabama and Massachusetts were with the center, the center was thought to be safe. The station-keepers here have been advised that the look-out line has been extended to Nantuxet, where the wireless telegraph station is located. From there all incoming vessels will be queried as to whether or not they have seen any of Commander Pillsbury's ships and the results of these investigations will be signalled to the scout boats or the land stations.

By 11 o'clock the fog lifted and the battleships were seen in their usual positions. Observation in the distance, however, was impossible owing to a haze which hung low over the water. All the scout boats were heard from before 11 o'clock, either at the station here or on board the Keatinge.

It is learned that the rules of the manoeuvres in which the vessels are engaged permit the destruction of the ships of the opposition squadron and it appears that the fear that Pillsbury may dash in and "disable" one of these vessels is one reason why the defending fleet is kept so compact by Admiral Higginson.

SALEM, Mass., Aug. 22.—The torpedo boats Bagley and Biddle of Admiral Higginson's squadron put in here early today for fuel, after which they left to resume patrol duty. The torpedo boat Barney was also sighted outside and it was expected that she would put in for coal later in the day. Owing to the scarcity of fuel considerable difficulty was experienced in procuring a supply for the torpedo boats.

ROCKPORT, Aug. 22.—The possibilities of a landing were fully discussed on board the flagship. It was learned that Commander Pillsbury's strategy enables him to take possession of certain steam yachts to be used in connection with his plan of attack. It is figured that if he should do so, he might place aboard such a craft a force of his ship's crew, and under this disguise land them near some light-house or signal station and thereby interrupt the system of communication maintained by Admiral Higginson and cause any amount of trouble.

Matters certainly are on a war basis on the defending fleet. Yesterday afternoon drill was dispensed with and officers and men alike stored up plenty of good sleep in anticipation of the enemy being located during the night. The watch slept on deck prepared for instant call.

Once during the night there was an exciting moment. At 11 o'clock a flash signal came from the shore. When the message was completed, there was a tumult, for it stated that the enemy was entering Salem harbor. An instant later, however, the message was amended, it having been discovered that the fleet included a three-masted schooner, a yacht and a scouting torpedo boat.

One other cause for alarm came in the prolonged absence of one of the torpedo boats which was not reported within reasonable time. Later on, however, the missing craft was located.

S. MACMULLAN'S COMPLAINT AGAINST A TEACHER SET ASIDE.

At the last meeting of the City Board of Education a communication was read from C. S. MacMullan of 156 Athol avenue, in which the writer accused a teacher in the A. Eighth grade of the Franklin school of incompetency, and asking that his son, Donald R. MacMullan, be transferred to the Lincoln school on account of the teacher's alleged inefficiency.

In reference to the matter, Superintendent of Schools McClymonds said yesterday:

"Although the Lincoln school is out of Mr. MacMullan's district, I found that there was room for his son in that school. I gave the necessary permission to have him transferred. In regard to the charge Mr. MacMullan makes against a certain teacher in the school department, nothing is to be done."

Closing Out.

By consent the case of "Lieutenant" Edgar N. Coffey, alias Newman, was continued this morning one week for arraignment by Judge Melvin. Coffey is accused of passing a forged check.

The case of Charles Brown, the Berkeley youth, who fired a shot at C. W. Lillard, supposing him to be a rival suitor, was continued one week for arraignment.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

William E. Dargie, President

MENACE OF THE TRUSTS.

Russell Sage, the aged New York capitalist, has sounded a warning against the trusts that will command attention. Mr. Sage is no alarmist. He is a multi-millionaire of extremely conservative temperament who has grown enormously wealthy by money-lending and stock dealing in New York. While he has speculated continuously in stocks, Mr. Sage has never been a railroad wrecker or an operator who amassed wealth by stock watering and working off shady securities. If he has been hard and calculating, his commercial code has been one of strict honesty.

"Combinations of all great industries are a menace to the Government," declares Mr. Sage. "Such combinations are not only a menace, but are the oppressors of the people."

"Should an era of combinations ensue, the American people will certainly revolt against them, and if they do there will be financial ruin such as people have never dreamed of in the history of the world."

This is the view of a man who is one of the keenest political observers as well as one of the shrewdest financiers in America. To the mass of men it is not generally known that Russell Sage was prominent in the politics of Upper New York nearly sixty years ago. Fifty years ago he sat in Congress, and had also served in the Legislature. He was a power too. He was a Whig, a Protectionist and a friend of Thurlow Weed's, but he abandoned politics at a time when he was assured of a successful career, and turned his attention to money making in New York.

Notwithstanding his close attention to money-getting Mr. Sage has always found time to keep under close observation the political signs of the times. Because of his comprehensive knowledge of political and industrial conditions throughout the country, Mr. Sage is peculiarly successful in speculating on the Stock Exchange. Only once in forty years has he failed to predict who would be elected President, and he knew exactly what the effect would be on the money market. This prescience has enabled him to make money, but it also enables him to perceive the dangers that are looming up on the political horizon. The old financier sees trouble ahead with the clearness of a statesman. He has seen the industrial system of this country grow from a mere nothing to be the greatest organization of its kind on earth—he has just passed his eighty-sixth birthday—and he knows it as the ordinary farmer knows his cattle. When he talks on the subject, he speaks the voice of cold, clear reason, and his warning will be heeded by many who would turn deaf ears to agitators and calamity politicians.

DEMOCRATIC TROUBLES.

The Democrats who have been chuckling over the newspaper crossing in the Republican ranks have been rudely awakened to the fact that they have troubles of their own. The Examiner has taken a pot shot at a covey of Democratic gubernatorial candidates that has started a rush for cover. Among the men it gives of not supporting is Franklin K. Lane, who has generally been conceded to be in the lead for the Democratic nomination, and Senator Sims, Chairman of the State Committee. This leaves in the list of available Mayor Snyder of Los Angeles, Ex-Congressman Geary, Former Governor Budd and Assessor Washington Dodge. Like Palsstaff's troop at Coventry, every man in the lot is afflicted with political infirmities. None of them will hardly pass muster, but as the Democratic campaign promises to be only a painted show, it makes little difference what victim is selected for the sacrifice.

THE MONUMENT CRAZE.

Every few weeks the press contains an account of the unveiling of some Confederate monument in the South. No man with a proper respect for the valor and virtues of the dead will find fault with the Southern people for honoring their fallen leaders, but one cannot help asking if the memorial business is not being overdone. Would not the South be better off, if the Southern people built more school houses and raised fewer monuments? Is it not also true that the craze for erecting monuments over the whole country is growing to be rather fantastic and disproportionate to the eternal fitness of things? The distinction between great and small heroes is being lost by setting up monuments to them all alike. The big man and the little man receive the same posthumous testimonial of honor. Are we not letting our enthusiasm run away with good judgment about such matters? Unless a halt is called the country will be studied with monuments to commemorate mediocre men and insignificant achievements.

A dose of the Bitters before meals will sharpen the appetite, tone up the stomach and aid digestion. When taken regularly will positively cure Headache, Stomach, Indigestion, Constipation and Malaria. A trial will convince you.

REAPING THE HARVEST.

It seems that they have a race question in South Africa that threatens to become acute if not sanguinary. Since the close of the war, the returning Boers have been harried by the natives, their homes plundered, and in some instances their women assaulted. The Boers have been harsh, often cruel taskmasters, virtually enslaving the mass of blacks in their territory. Under British law every man is free where the British flag waves. The natives released from thralldom have begun to commit the excesses common to all ignorant emancipated races when suddenly given freedom. They have grudges to satisfy, and to the semi-savage mind loot and the gratification of lust are a necessary result of the overthrow of oppressors. Liberty is construed to mean license, and according to their benighted minds, it is now the proper thing for them to seize Boer property and ravish Boer women. It has been the immemorial custom among the native races in Africa for the victims to treat the vanquished in this way. Tribal wars in the interior furnished cargoes for the slave ships in the days of the slave trade, wars being waged solely with the object of capturing prisoners to sell as slaves. The barbarous primitive idea that it is legitimate to make slaves of the men and concubines of the women of those defeated in battle has not been eradicated from the native African mind, and the conduct of the white men in Africa has not been such as to elevate the moral code in spite of their gospel teaching.

The Boers in the past treated the natives as savages. They viewed them pretty much as the Puritan Colonists of New England looked upon the Indians. The land was the Lord's and to be enjoyed by the children of the Lord, and the natives were heathens with no rights that a Christian was bound to respect. The white men took the land and then made the blacks till it for them. In spite of the white men's Bible, the blacks got more rum than religion and more bullets than brotherly love from them. It is not strange, therefore, that the smothered resentment caused by years of servitude and oppression should break forth when British power broke the Boer rule. Agitators among the ignorant blacks have led their followers to believe that the British fought for them against the Boers, and they see no reason why they should not make reprisal on their fallen foes. However, false and pernicious such ideas may be, they are the logical consequence of past and contemporaneous events operating on the minds of a half-savage people smarting under the wrongs of years and holding to the primitive code that the persons and property of the vanquished are the rightful spoil of the victors. The British government will have to deal with these troubles with a strong hand, or the disturbed conditions in South Africa will become absolutely chaotic. It seems to be the law of civilization, however merciless and unchristian it may seem, for the savage races in a conquered territory to be regarded as a necessary evil—and convenience.

It may be a mere coincidence that Uncle Russell Sage shield his brick at the trusts just after J. Pierpont Morgan landed from Europe, but there are people who will suspect that the veteran of the street had an eye to effect when he unbecomingly himself. Morgan is the incarnation of the trust principal, and he has been on a long pioneering tour in Europe, largely for the purpose of getting the steam merchant marine of the world into one huge combine. If Sage was not taking a shot at Morgan and his methods, then all signs are at fault.

The lull in South Carolina politics was only temporary. A week of quiet has been broken by a fist fight between two Democratic Senatorial candidates on the stage of a public meeting. South Carolina civility seems to have greatly fallen, when gentlemen resort to fists to settle a political controversy. Where is the cane of the immortal Preston Brooks?

Missouri is boasting of a big corn crop, and in consequence the Republicans have strong hopes of carrying the State. It has been noticed that when the corn crisis are full the Democratic vote falls off. When drought and grasshoppers ceased to desolate Kansas the Sunflower State promptly returned to the Republican column.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR FINGERS

Olive M. Hyde today filed an amended complaint in her action against the Southern Pacific Company to recover $2200 on account of having had her fingers caught by a gate on the Seventh street local train. The accident occurred on December 31, 1901. The plaintiff was returning from San Francisco when the train stopped at Center street, she started to get off. She alleges that while she was on the steps of the car and about to step to the ground, the train was suddenly and without warning started. The jar, it is alleged, caused the sliding gate to close and catch three fingers of her left hand by which she was holding to prevent herself from falling.

In a masterly exhibition of golf J. A. Folger of the Oakland Golf Club defeated R. L. Maclean, after winning from such famous players as C. B. Knapp and C. E. Maud, was thought certain of defeating the Oakland man, and a game effort he made. The score finally rested at 4 up for Folger with 2. Folger's victory was a great surprise.

WIFE COMPLAINS OF VERY MUCH CRUELTY

WIFE REFUSES TO FORGIVE BLOW SHE RECEIVED FROM HUSBAND.

Charges of extreme cruelty are preferred in a complaint for divorce that has been filed by Mrs. Alphonsine L. Rivard against her husband, O. Charles Rivard. A blow on the face that she received on Decoration day, May 30, was the final act of cruelty that caused

Mrs. Rivard to seek a legal separation. Mrs. Rivard was felled to the floor by the blow, and her eye was badly discolored and swollen for several days afterward. Being ashamed of his conduct, Rivard for ten days kept away from his wife and slept in the basement of his home. At the end of that time he asked his wife to forgive him. She, however, was obdurate and refused to be reconciled to her husband, remembering the many other acts of cruelty she had endured during the last ten years. She told her husband to leave the house, as she never wished to see him again.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES UNDER THE BAN OF LABOR

THE EXAMINER SERVES NOTICE THAT NO McNAB-PHELAN NOMINEE HAS A CHANCE TO WIN.

[From today's Examiner.] We hope to see the Democratic party successful at the next election. We believe it is possible for the Democrats to find a candidate who can defeat any man now a candidate before the Republican convention, but we are certain that it will be hopeless to attempt to carry the State with a protégé of McNab at the head of the ticket. We, therefore, feel it our duty to notify the Democratic members of the convention that will assemble shortly that the candidates of Gavin McNab are Sims of Sonoma, W. H. Alford and Franklin K. Lane of San Francisco. Either one will suit him equally well. Either one will place his administration in McNab's hands. This is so well known to the working people of San Francisco that hundreds of them have stated they would regard the nomination of either candidate by the Democrats as such a direct slap at the working people they would feel justified not only in voting against the candidates but in carrying ing their honesty against the entire Democratic party. Those who have consulted with the labor leaders of San Francisco assure us that this is so strongly the temper of the unions that not only in this city but in Sacramento, Oakland and San Jose and every city in which there is a union vote, Democratic candidates for Congressmen, Supreme Judges, Governor and all State officials, will be cut by the union working people if the ticket is headed by one of McNab's candidates. We do not believe it is in the province of a newspaper to select candidates for a party, or to advocate the claims of any special man as against others, unless there is the most urgent reason. We know that political parties and the press are not to be trusted, and we know that the only way to secure the contingency of a McNab candidate being placed at the head of the ticket.

CONGRESSMAN METCALF AND THE CHAIRMANSHIP

HOW THE SITUATION IS VIEWED FROM A STANDPOINT FRIENDLY TO GAGE.

From Today's Examiner.

Now, the Alameda Congressman is not a man to be ordered or ejected. The man who has more influence at Washington than any other member of California's delegation is not apt to be anybody's fool. Then, again, Metcalf is affiliated with political honesty. He had gone in with Pardee in a harmony game in Alameda. To be sure, that harmony realizes Hanna's idea of harmony with an ax; but having gone into the combination with Pardee, Metcalf was not the man to throw the doctor over in cold blood. So he said he wouldn't run for chairman unless Pardee consented or the Alameda delegation requested him to offer himself as a candidate.

Now, Justice F. W. Henshaw is about the brainiest of the Alameda county Republicans. He is a great friend of Metcalf, and it was he who administered to Gage the oath of office. The Gage men appealed to him to get Metcalf into the fight. But Henshaw didn't move very rapidly in the matter, and no man could get Metcalf to say whether he would offer himself for chairman or not. And things were getting more and more ticklish as the days wore on.

Dr. Pardee was quoted as saying that Metcalf would not be a candidate.

ing of the Town Trustees was delayed owing to the fact that the representative of the company that proposed doing the work failed to be present. The matter, however, will come up at the next meeting of the Board and it is probable that they will decide upon giving the proposition a trial.

TRUSTEES MEET AT HAYWARDS

PROPOSITION TO OIL STREETS WILL COME UP SHORTLY.

HAYWARDS, Aug. 22.—The proposition of oiling a number of the local streets which was to have been brought up at Wednesday night's meeting of the Board and it is probable that they will decide upon giving the proposition a trial.

When the bowls go wrong in adults or children, quit all food but Grape-Nuts and a little cream or milk. The experience of one woman will be read with interest by many mothers who pass anxious days over little ones and become alarmed because the food does not agree with baby and he daily wastes away.

Mrs. W. H. Mennens of Little Falls, Minnesota, writes, "I want to tell you the good Grape-Nuts Food has done for my baby boy. When he was 10 months old he was taken with summer complaint and I could not find any prepared food that agreed with him. I was giving him doctor's medicine all the time but he continued to lose weight until he only weighed 15 pounds, having weighed 22 pounds before he was taken sick. Finally the doctor told me that unless I could get some real nourishing food for him he could not live many days and he advised me to get Grape-Nuts Food which I did, and in five days he gained 4 ounces and in five weeks he weighed 20 pounds. If any mother reading this letter wants to write me personally I will gladly answer and tell her the full particulars regarding baby's sickness and the good Grape-Nuts did for him."

The neighboring quarrel which culminated in Mrs. Fish having Mrs. Lane arrested for disturbing her peace was settled in Justice Prowse's court. It appears that Mrs. Fish claimed that Mrs. Lane turned her nose on her and that she also acted in an offensive manner. The case against Mrs. Lane was dismissed.

LOHMANITES WIN

THE ACME CLUB WILL HAVE FINISH
SPORT IN THREE COM-

The Ponies went down to defeat before the rejuvenated Lohmanites yesterday afternoon amid a volley of sensational plays. The score read 10 to 0 against Uncle Harris' hired men at the end of the tenth inning.

Every kind of a drive, single, double and four-sacker were turned loose, and nearly tired the fielders out chasing the leather sphere. The Ponies aggregated sixteen swats, followed with fifteen by the locals.

It was anybody's game until the teenth when swats by Walters, Mohle and Streib forced the winning tally to 10.

Meredith did the twirling for the Pongles and Cristall and Hodson for the locals.

Frightful

THE misrepresentations of some firms is a thorough disgrace to the community—when a piano merchant, in order to sell his wares, is compelled to keep his store open 24 hours every day and then, in desperation, take a new piano and by mutilating the case put it in his window as a "second-hand bargain," and price it at $25.00 more than it is worth in perfect condition, times with him are certainly getting pretty desperate indeed.

Reputable firms do not (in fact cannot afford to) have "special piano sales today," signs in their windows week after week. If such a sign is maintained in the window then special prices must be made. Does it stand to reason that a conservative business can be so conducted?

Kohler & Chase do not do business in this way. We have never yet been accused of misleading the public—when you see it in our ad. it's so. While we have the largest floor space of any piano store in Oakland (equal to all other stores combined) we have never yet advertised the receipt of a "trainload of pianos just arrived." Even a short trainload would crowd us pretty well, much less get them in a little 2x4 store.

Every one knows the reputation we have acquired during the last half century. Any piano purchased from us is covered by a guarantee as good as a government bond. Any instrument can be returned to us within five years from date of purchase in part payment of one of higher grade—our pianos must be pretty good to enable us to do that. We buy for cash (we don't negotiate our paper) and are therefore able to sell lower than any other firm. Before you try that long-talked-of piano come and see us—we will convince you that we can save you big money.

Delegates will be in attendance from all of the Eastern universities, and from Michigan and Wisconsin, the only institutions of the Middle West in which the Sorority has established chapters. The list of delegates as thus far received by the local chapter, is as follows:

Miss Millicent Hinckley and Miss Emogene Day of the Syracuse University Alumnae Association; Miss Leola Jermy of Syracuse University, N. Y.; Miss Katherine McFarland of the University of Michigan; Miss Crawley Lewis of the University of Michigan; Miss Jane Smart of Woman's College, Baltimore; Miss Lucile Timberlake of the University of Denver, Colorado; Miss Emma P. Lowry, Sorority President; Mrs. Palmer of the New York Alumnae Association; Miss Lamb of the Boston Alumnae Association; Miss Grete Augustine, Miss Margaret Campbell, and Miss Le Conte, all of the California chapter.

A number of brilliant functions have been planned in honor of the visitors. On Tuesday afternoon the active members of the State University Chapter will tender them a reception at the chapter house. Wednesday evening the alumnae chapter will give a dance in Hearst Hall in honor of the delegates. Receptions will also be tendered the Eastern guests by the Delta Delta Delta chapter, by the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, and by the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. In addition to these affairs, there will be a number of trips to points of interest around the bay.

The president of the convention will be Miss Louise Kellogg, a graduate of the University of Chicago. The subjects considered will be the organization of the Sorority, the establishment of new chapters, initiation, and other topics of a kindred nature. A delegate will be named to represent the Sorority at the international Inter-Sorority Conference, which will meet this year in Chicago.

This is the first time any of the national conventions of the college sororities or fraternities have come to the Pacific Coast, and it is hence felt to be something of an honor to entertain the convention.

CHEATING IN THE EX'S WILL NOT BE ALLOWED.

BERKELEY, Aug. 22.—That cheating in examinations must stop at the State University is the ultimatum of the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs. The penalty for the offense is fixed at immediate expulsion. The committee is backed in their stand by President Wheeler and by the large body of students.

Notice of the intention of the faculty was posted yesterday in Hearst Hall. The following action has been taken by the Committee on Student Affairs, the action having been approved by the President of the University. For manifest dishonest work in copying drawings made by others in the course known as Drawing I, four students, members of the class of 1905, have had their connection with the University immediately terminated. C. L. CORRY, chairman.

The severe measures taken by the faculty this year are the result of last year's student agitation, when a determined effort was made to have cheating in examinations made an offense against the student body, and punishable by that body. As the scheme necessarily involved one student in cheating on another, it was defeated by a vote of two to one. The faculty heartily favored the proposed system and expressed great disappointment when it failed to go through.

This year the attempt will be renewed. In a short time Bruce Wright, president of the Associated Students, will appoint a committee to investigate the matter, and the system will be balloted upon again during this term.

CHEMISTRY COURSES ARE GREATLY OVER-CROWDED.

BERKELEY, Aug. 22.—With a Freshman class numbering over 600 students and with a large proportion of them registered in chemistry.

entering in the scientific colleges, the University authorities are in a quandary as to what they shall do with these students. The laboratory facilities of the Chemistry Department are no longer large enough to accommodate the students who are flocking into the department. It is thought that it will be necessary to construct an addition to the building.

The necessity for this increase is indicative of the great growth of the University. The building was constructed twelve years ago, when there were but fifty laboratory students. Its laboratory capacity was 150 students, and the Regents thought that they had built for all time. Today there are over 450 men and women enrolled in laboratory courses.

The deceased leaves a family of five children—three sons, Isaac Wells, E. P. Wells and W. E. Wells, and two daughters, Mrs. George E. Moulton of Galesville, Oregon, and Mrs. G. W. Gray of Ferndale.

WILL HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR EARL LEVAN.

The speakers will be Rev. George B. Hatch, pastor of the church, Professor Kendrick C. Babcock, representing the University, and Ivan B. Rhodes, representing the College Young Men's Christian Association, in which Levan was a very active worker. Special music has been prepared by the choir for the occasion.

CALIFORNIA LOSES ITS CRACK TENNIS MAN.

BERKELEY, Aug. 22.—With the graduation of Richard C. Hunt from the State University the chances of scoring a tennis victory against Stanford next spring are materially decreased. The entering class thus far shows little strength, but two players, entering with reputations from preparatory schools, they are Neill Baker of the Ventura High school and R. H. F. Varlet of the Los Angeles High school. Both of these men are experienced players and have competed in nearly all of the late amateur tournaments in Southern California.

Neill Baker is a brother of George C. Baker, a member of last year's intercollegiate doubles team. The two will play together and will make strong arguments for the intercollegiate team. Varlet with Tom Hendricks, a Junior in the University, won the doubles championship of the Southern California, in which all of the institutions of the south were represented. They will compete against the Baker brothers.

Of the singles players, the best man now in college is D. McGavin. Harold Brainerd, graduate of Stanford, and Fred Brown has not returned this year. Another singles man will thus have to be developed. From present indications George Baker may be called upon to play in both singles and doubles.

As yet the Executive Committee has appointed no tennis manager. George Baker will probably be their choice. Upon the election of the college arrangements will be immediately made for a handicap tournament. The players who show up in best form during this tournament will be given special privileges next year when the fight for the intercollegiate team is on.

So popular has the sport become that an attempt will probably be made this year to build another tennis court on the campus. The success of the effort will depend largely upon the sum netted to the University by football.

CLAIMS WIDOW IS ATTEMPTING FRAUD.

Thomas W. Swinney, one of the defendants being sued by Mrs. Agnes A. C. E. Altwater, as administratrix of the estate of her late husband, David Altwater, to quiet title to property in Piedmont, has filed an answer, in which he denies the widow's claim. Swinney holds a deficiency judgment against the estate for $487 and he alleges that Mrs. Altwater is attempting to defraud him out of his claim.

DENY LIABILITY FOR THE ACCIDENT.

Scott to recover $14,740 damages on account of having his leg broken by a fall while doing repair work on the ship Dora. It is alleged that the accident was due to Scott's carelessness. Scott claims the accident was caused by a heavy iron weight falling upon a plank on which he was at work precipitating him to the hold of the vessel.

OBJECTS TO DAMAGE SUIT

George A. Davis, who is being sued for damages by W. M. Watson, on account of an alleged appropriation of property held in trust, today filed a demurrer to the complaint upon the ground that two causes of action have been improperly united. It is claimed that an action to recover on an alleged contract has been improperly united with an action to recover for an alleged breach of faith.

Motions to separate the causes of action and to strike out the alleged irrelevant and redundant parts will be argued on September 5.

Many hundred sacks of cucumbers are being picked from the patch owned by A. Vagers located between here and San Leandro. The cucumbers are being shipped to pickle factories in this vicinity and in San Francisco. The patch is one of the largest in the county.
